Jennifer and family, My deepest condolences with the news of your dads passing.. I volunteered in at day out program at Georgian Village when he was part of the program. He was just a sweet man, we enjoyed his presence, very interesting. Maybe you remember me from PGH, maybe not.... I lost my mom last month at the same age as your dad. It's just so hard to lose a parent.

Our family knew Alan for many years as a kind, energetic and respected member of St John's, and the community. He always greeted us with such warm interest. I have fond memories of walking with Alan and Arlie at an Alzheimer's Walkathon in Midland a number of years ago. Our sincere condolences to Barbara and family. To Barbara, Cathy & Gary, Jen & Vern and families. My deepest condolences on the passing of Alan. Yes, we all knew it was going to happen but I'm certain that when it came, there was grief and sadness and, perhaps, even relief. Alan's journey is over and he can enter into the Eternal Rest of which his faith gave assurance. Even before taking over as the current organist at St. John's in 2017, I had known Alan (and Barbara) from our days when we sang in the Elmvale & District Choral Society. The obituary filled in the blanks of his well-lived life and we should all give thanks to God for his life. RIP Alan. Blessings and peace to those who mourn him.

I consider myself very fortunate to have known Alan. He was a mentor of sorts to me when I first dabbled in politics, and I enjoyed every one of our conversations. His decency and good humour always shined through, but at the same time he was shrewd, so I always valued his advice. I remember one afternoon we were out campaigning in an election door to door and he recognized a man he had curled with decades before in the GTA and struck up an amazing conversation with him. No matter how grumpy people at the door were Alan was all smiles and I think he improved the mood of even the grumpiest person we encountered that day just by force of his personality. As pleasant a person as he was, I also knew I'd get some tough questions every time I was invited in to sit in the living room with both him and Barb, and learned to give direct answers because he was well beyond accepting any half excuse. I enjoyed those conversations immensely and will always think of him fondly. My condolences to you Barb and all your children, and thank you for sharing Alan with us.
