JACOB ALLAN MARTIN

Our hearts are hurting at the loss you are all suffering. We will never forget Jacob's shy, crooked grin. He was a good friend and teammate who will be dearly missed. Much love to you all.

For the short period I knew Jacob, from the Lottermoser farm, he will always be remembered for his smile, and how helpful and respectful he was. I will always be Amazed from watching him carry many extremely heavy bales all in one go.

Dear Gerry, Tracey, Howard, Emma, Aaron and Abby. I am devastated to hear this news, and you have been in mine and Kiana's thoughts since we heard. I remember so clearly the times all the kids would pop in for a swim, something I absolutely loved. Our community is small, but our hearts are very big. Please know how much we care.

I had the pleasure of celebrating Christmas Eve with Jacob & his sister Abby one year, when they came to Wood-Torrie home. My daughter Ava (cousin to Alexis) and I marvelled at the stories/knowledge Jacob & Abby shared about their passion for agriculture. Many laughs were shared that night. Some even on video. And as seasons change, I remember Ava sharing how her, Alexis & Jacob would go driving around, listening to music on the backroads, side roads...like any good-country-raised-teenagers. From our hearts, Ava & I send our deepest, most sincere condolences for your loss. Ava Dubois-Wood & Heather Dubois

Dear Gerald,Tracey,Howard,Emma,Aaron & Abby, We know that Jacob's legacy will live on in your hearts and all who knew him. Son's and brothers leave permanent footprints on our hearts and Jacob's cowboy boots are sure to be on all of yours.We can't possibly know your heartbreak and words seem meaningless after such a loss but please know that our hearts are full of thoughts and prayers for all of you. It always amazes me that the Martin children always show up for set up at the fair and were back again on Monday for clean up. It is rare that family members that young come out year after year to lend their hands to help out an aging group of people. There is no doubt their Thanksgiving weekend was as busy or busier than the rest of ours but they came and it was always with a smile and a willingness to help out. Jacob's smile will be fondly remembered often and by many and for me it will always be at fair time -Tanya Sending you strength & prayers as you find your way through each day.
