I have spent the last 364 Thursday nights at the Palace Music Jam, attempting to beat Gummy at billiards. I managed to do so only twice; and only by compromising his abilities with extra cocktails. In the meantime we shared so many laughs within our “motley crew” of jam night friends. .I would tell him he was getting loud and belligerent and he would pause with an annoyed expression and then agree with a guffaw !! I will miss his pranks, acerbic sense of humour; his blatant honesty, his booming laugh; and most of all, his fierce, squishy hugs that made you feel you mattered. Gummy’s friendship was extra special to me as he was a cousin (I never laughed more when he expressed surprise when that was mentioned) and it was inter generational as I shared him with my Dad, Rick. He will be so missed ! Sending condolences to his lovely Mom, Joan.and family. Xo
