John and I served in Cornwallis back in our military days. He was never serious about anything a happy go lucky guy and a jokester. He was our goalie for hockey in Cornwallis and seen a lot of leather but didn't care he just love playing the game. RIP my brother.

Chris and I send our condolences to all who called John a friend. John lived in such pain and yet bravely did his best to move forward. A true friend that is missed. He spoke so fondly of his children and Toni, God Bless.

I would like to offer my condolences to the Savage family. I served with John in the military. My last contact was in Namibia. We had such great time, with his zest for life and sense of humour made for a memorable posting. May he rest in peace. Pat Johnston Chilliwack BC

We are so saddened to hear of the sudden death of John. It is a difficult and trying time for all of the family and we are filled with fond memories. I first met John when he became engaged to my niece Toni and I officiated at their wedding. We rejoiced when Ben, Brynn and Kylie arrived in the family. John was appreciated for his humour and his thoughtfulness and caring. He has made a valuable difference by his service in the military, his membership in the Masonic Lodge and his participation in the Elmvale Maple Syrup Festival. We offer our heartfelt condolences and prayers.
